about me

I am determined and able to organize my work independently, however I found working in team a really good way to learn and share knowledge and it reminds me every day that I want to improve myself looking at the great things people makes around me.

The knowledge I gained with every work experience I have done till now had broaden my horizon and had offered me the opportunity to adapt myself to new environments. I learnt how to use the resources I have in my cultural background and how to be flexible.

I am open minded and as I said before, I am determined and willing to take on all changes. Moreover I am one of those people that try to figure out any problem with different solutions. I try to change perspective and even if sometimes I am stuck or bumped into a wall, I really try not to lose hope.

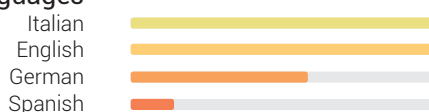

I face every day with a smile. One of the thing I am most proud of it is that people always remember me as cheerful and caring. There is where my hobby for cooking come in handy. Sharing is caring.
